last night at the courthouse of Henrico county, in the presence of a small party of interested spectators. The bride was Miss Ada Gray, a pretty and charming young woman of about eighteen summers, and Mr. J. Arnold Frank, of Danville, Ky. now a student in the law department of Richmond College. Miss Gray is also from Danville, and arrived in the city just before the marriage on a Chesapeake and Ohio train, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Atwood Gray, and her uncle, Mr. C. B. Gray. Their coming was the outcome of a preconcerted plan of the young people, to which the mother gave her assent. The young people had been engaged for some time, and both were at school—she at a femile seminary in the pretty Kentucky town. Resolved to end their unnecessary separation, the arrangements were made and Miss Gray came to the city to meet and wed her future husband. Immediately upon arrival in the city the couple drove to the Henrico Courthouse, where the deputy clerk made out the requisite license, and, desiring to wed immediately, Mr. Voegler, the deputy sheriff, kindly went in search of a minister, and soon secured Rev.

Seorge H. Wiley, of the Methodist

In one of the upper rooms of the county building, in the presence of half a dozen witnesses, the young couple stood up before the officiating minister and took the vows that united their destinies henceforth. Mr. and Mrs. Gray, uncle and mother of the bride, were present. The bride wore a becoming traveling suit of fawn colored cloth, trimmed with blue. She is a graceful figure and quite a pretty young woman, and the young blue. She is a graceful figure and quite a pretty young woman, and the young bridegroom, a handsome, manly young gentleman. After the wedding Deputy Voegler, with his usual forethough, secured a bag of rice, and it was distributed surreptitiously among the spectators, all of whom showered the young couple with it as they entered their carriage, evoking a merry laugh from them.

Mr. Gray will remain at college during the remainder of the session, completing his law course there, while the bride will continue her education at one of the seminaries in this city. Reports Received from Verious Sections as to Banking Conditions. (By Associated Press.)

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Oct. 22.—The second day's session of the American Bankers' Association was late in assembling to-day. President Hardy called the assemblage to order and Rev. George C. Adams, of the First Congregational Church, offered a prayer.

After discussion of minor matters, came the paper of Hon. William B, Ridgeley, Comptroller of the Currency, his subject being "The Currency,"

The paper of J. F. McAshan, cashier of the South Texas National Bank, of Houston, Texas, on "The Money Supply of the United States," was then read, Under the call of the States reports were received from various sections in relation to the general condition of the banking business.

BIRDS' CLUB ENTERTAINED

Wednesday night was a most enjoyable affair. A delightful menu was spread in Campbell's banquet hall, and the guests of the club contributed very materially to the enjoyment of the evening. Among the guests were Messrs. Leach and Chaghan, of the "Loop-the-Loop" Company, and Messrs. Johnstone and Smith, of the Ois Skinner-Ada Rehan Company, These gentlemen related many amusing incident of their varied experiences throughout the country.

Messrs. Keafauver and Minneman, of the depth's staff of the Logislature, told a number of political yarns. Captain LeMassurier gave a graphic account of one of the flerce fights he was engaged in during the war with the Filipinos and Mr. Lonnie Wisen yold some funny stories.

Attractive Homes.

The residence of Captain Andrew Pizzidi, Jr., at the corner of Eighth and Grace Streets, and that next to it, will be offered for sale next Wednesday afternoon at public auction by the William B. Pizzini Company. They are known as Nos. 717 and 779 East Grace, and both are very desirable, being good houses, and the location for convenience cannot be beaten.

Captain Pizzini is having a residence built at the corner of Floyd Avenue and built at the corner of Floyd Avenue and Linden Street, which will be ready in a few weeks now. Captain Fizzini's fam-ily will move in as soon as the con-tractor is through with his work. The other residence for sale is occupied by a Mystic Circle Has Ten Candidates.

To-night there will be ten new members initiated of The Praternal Mystic Circle at the lodge room of Richmond Rolling, Pickett Camp Hall, No. 307 North Seventh Street. They are members of the new Ruling "Montague," which is mailing headway as far as numbers are concerned. The officers of the old ruling, assisted by the new officers, will have charge of the Initiation, which will be conferred in full regular. Afterwards a cold collation will be enjoyed, music and a smoker, at which old friendship will be renewed and new ties made. Every member of either fulling is requested to be present innetually at 8 o'clock this (Pridoy) evening.

UNION HOTEL SOON

TO BE CLOSED Mr. Edgar Allan. Jr., Lessee, to Return to Practice of Law.

The Union Hotel, for sonic time past eased and conducted by Mr. Edgar Allan, Jr., will be closed on November With the exception of renting rooms, the hostelry is practically closed now, no meals being served. The building is a part of the old St. Charles, once one of the most famous hotels of the city—the leading hotel here until the Exchange took its place. It is on the site of the Bell Tayern, one of the early public houses of Richmend. The present building and site are owned by the Seaboard Air Line Company, and the structure is gradually dishintegrating, and will likely give way to a freight depot.

Mr. Allan is gradually selling off the furniture and carpets of the hotel, and about the first of the month will return to the practice of law with his father. the hostelry is practically closed now,

Messrs. Pollard and Bagby, real estate agents, had the only sale at auction yes-terday, disposing of No. 10 Harvie Street for $2,150.

HEAVY LOSS OF APPLES housands of Barrels Shaken Off by Recent Wind, Storm.

The loss to orchardists of this State by reason of the recent severe wind storm is reported as serious in many counties. This is notably true as to the counties of Culpeper, Rappahannock and Warren, all large apple growing counties. Thousands of barrels of apples were blown from the trees and many of these, it is feared, were lost before they could be gathered. The ground under the trees was literally covered with the faller truit, and many orchardists put large forces of men with teams at work gathering and storing these fallen apples. A gentleman who recently visited that section and drave from Clupeper to Washington, the county seat of Rappa-Recent Wind, Storm. section and drove from Clupener to Washington, the county sent of Rappahannock and thince to Front Royal, in Warren county, report that great devastation resulted from the yerrile blow. The damage was probably quite as great in other large apple growing counties. The crop of aples is the largest in many years and will net the orchardists thousands of dollars.
